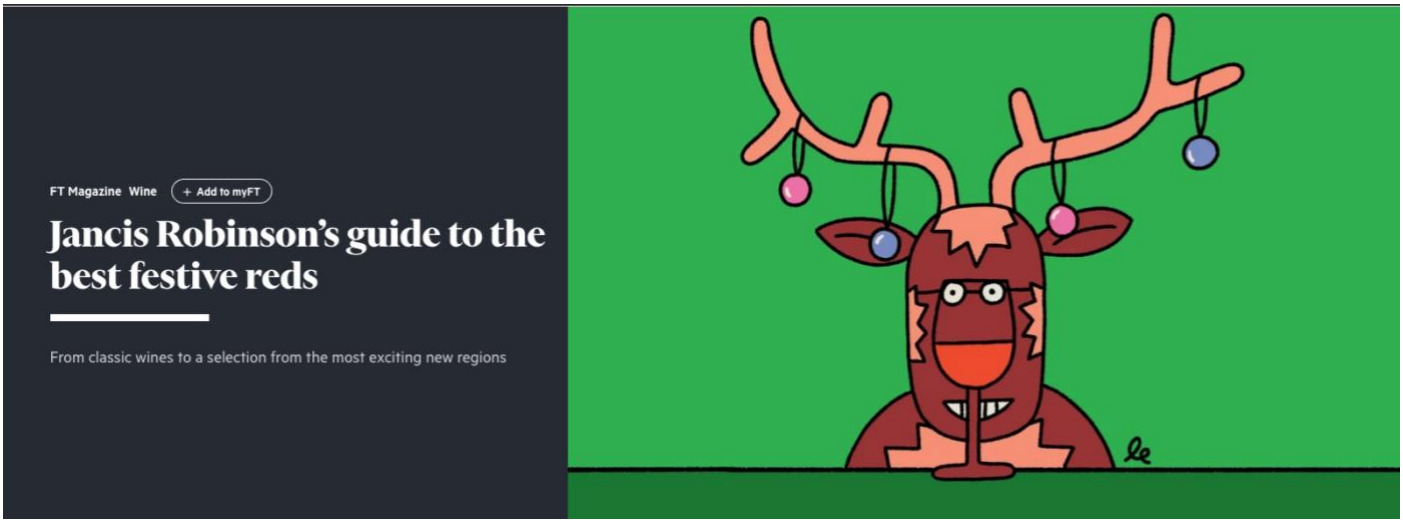
FINANCIAL TIMES



Jancis Robinson DECEMBER 12 2020

42

These celebratory reds include many a classic but also handpicked examples from some of the most exciting new wine regions. They should deliver pleasure and relative value. Alcohol levels vary quite widely but even the 15 percenters taste well-balanced and appetising. The prices given are for single bottles but you can usually save money by ordering by the case, which may often be mixed.

(...)

Passopisciaro, Passorosso 2016 Etna, Sicily 14%
An ethereal blend from ancient, lava-strewn vineyards on the flanks of the volcano from the estate of Andrea Franchetti. A much lighter, fresher style of wine — an expression of the Nerello Mascalese grape — than the rich wines of his Tenuta di Trinoro estate in southern Tuscany.
£34.50 Corney & Barrow

ft.com, 12 dicembre 2020
di Jancis Robinson